Questions

1. OEM helmet production?

Can you produce OEM helmets for a client? OEM helmet production is a complex process that involves a lot of steps, from design to production. It is important to have a good relationship with the OEM and to understand their capabilities and limitations. OEM helmets are typically produced in large quantities and are often used for professional racing or other high-performance applications. OEM helmets are typically more expensive than retail helmets, but they offer a higher level of safety and performance.

2. ODM helmet production?

Can you produce ODM helmets for a client? ODM helmet production is a process where the manufacturer designs and produces the helmet, but the client provides the design and branding. ODM helmets are typically produced in smaller quantities and are often used for retail or promotional purposes. ODM helmets are typically less expensive than OEM helmets, but they may not offer the same level of safety and performance.
